Size: 510 m<sup>2</sup>

Location: Incline Village, USA

Feature:

Project - Nestled along the rugged Crystal Bay shoreline, the Lake Tahoe Cabins by RO | ROCKETT DESIGN exemplify an ingenious response to the complex lakefront terrain. The project comprises three discrete structures that traverse the landscape, each strategically positioned to forge distinct connections with the surrounding Tahoe scenery.

A standout feature is the glazed bridge that links the cabins, artfully kinked to preserve a mass of prehistoric Sierra granite in its path. This unique arrangement creates recreational alcoves before approaching the waterfront. The structures' form follows function, with expansive east-facing facades that capture stunning lake vistas.

On the second level, the great room and kitchen expand seamlessly onto a grand balcony, offering breathtaking panoramic views. An intimate hillside deck provides a cozy retreat from the cabin's spacious entertainment areas. Descending to the lowest level reveals a fire pit and oversized hot tub, leading to a pier that extends into the pristine waters.

With its sensitive integration into the landscape and celebration of indoor-outdoor living, the Lake Tahoe Cabins manifest a remarkable synergy between architecture and nature. RO | ROCKETT DESIGN's thoughtful approach has sculpted a one-of-a-kind lakefront haven that pays homage to its awe-inspiring setting.

Design Team - Founded in 2011, RO | ROCKETT DESIGN is a full-service architecture and design practice based across Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Aspen. The collaborative strives to create spaces, landscapes, and environments that provide a rich spectrum of experiences, from utility to simple joy. Their design philosophy centers around shaping spaces, light, and materials to dynamically mediate the occupant's relationship with the surrounding site context.

With a keen focus on spatial proportions, the choreography of natural light, and the tactile character of materials, the firm aims to craft places that beckon visitors to return time and again. The seamlessly integrated studios operate interactively in real-time, ensuring a cohesive approach across all projects.

RO | ROCKETT DESIGN is led by principals Jason Ro and Zac Rockett, both graduates of the Harvard Graduate School of Design. Ro, born in Cleveland and raised in Seoul, brings experience from practices like Weiss/Manfredi and Rogers Marvel Architects. Rockett, hailing from Oklahoma, has worked with Renzo Piano Building Workshop and Aidlin Darling Design. Together, they helm a talented team of architects and designers dedicated to crafting exceptional built environments.
